A day before Nakba (The Palestinian Holocaust) memorial day, we would be celebrating activism and art – powers of the free spirit which no occupation can retain. This event would bring together, live and via Skype, political activists and artists, all connected to historical Palestine, whose work put in light the diversity of the human-scape in the area, and the various projects which celebrate the richness of the environment and the different cultures inspite of being constantly hindered by the Occupation. Inspired by spontaneous meetings happening at the MOTforestillinger in January, this event would create a platform for honest meetings and true communication (as well as artistic cooperations), between people who share the same values of respect, but geographically (or culturally) could never have met before.

It would be a celebration of Art, literature, films, political activity, good music, food and good company. Join us, and let's start building an international community of people whose hearts would not be limited by borders.
